Mr. Keeter was a man whose word was his bond; you could always count on him. In his bonding business, Mr. Keeter worked closely with the Magistrates, the Sheriff's Office, and the Courts. After his retirement, his son Frank has kept the business thriving, and is a credit to his father's good name. I will miss Mr. Keeter's humor, his ready laugh, and his manner of setting people at ease in tense and stressful situations.

Frank always had a joke or something funny to share. Fond memories of his laughter in his grocery store.
